BLOOMINGTON, Ind. – The Bloomington-born a cappella sensation Straight No Chaser returns to the IU Auditorium stage Thursday, December 13. Tickets are available now for the return of some of IU's favorite alumni.

A group The New York Times calls "vibrantly warm-blooded," Straight No Chaser has become an international phenomenon with a massive fan base and a reputation as an unforgettable live act, performing for sold-out crowds across the nation. From classic carols to pop hits, the a cappella fellas bring something for everybody in their annual holiday show filled with their signature sound and vaudeville-style kitsch.

Originally formed at Indiana University in 1996, SNC has revolutionized the genre of a capella and merged it into the modern pop landscape with inventive arrangements of Top 40 hits, medleys, and classic holiday songs. Now in their 22nd year, with six albums and four EPs worth of repertoire, they embark on their One Shot Tour to bring their silky-smooth style and tongue-in-cheek charm back to where it all began. The tour coincides with the release of their new album, One Shot, which was released November 9.

"Nothing makes Bloomington hearts beat quite like they do for Straight No Chaser," Executive Director of IU Auditorium Doug Booher said. "We are always thrilled, year after year, to welcome the guys back to our stage and their college town. Even 22 years in, they bring an unparalleled pizzazz to every single performance."
